Dear friends:

This Sunday there is a lot happening! In worship, we'll celebrate the Wednesday Walkers and Talkers 35th Anniversary, and the Handbells will be playing. We'll also wrap up the sermon series, "Joyfully Sharing: Time, Talent, Treasure," focusing on Jesus saying "Where your treasure is, there your heart will be also."

Where do you put your time, talent, and treasure? We can see what we value most by looking at where our energy and our resources are going. It's a worthy inquiry! Food, shelter, clothing, transportation, gifts, tuition, charities, fitness, hobbies and leisure... Are we comfortable with where we are putting our hearts? With what we are treasuring? Are we living with intention? Are we returning our lives to the love that birthed us?

These are the questions our faith invites us to ask so that when our lives are done, we will have lived with meaning and purpose. We're on this road of faith together, sorting it all out and upholding each other along the way. I pray you know the support of this church even as you support this church.

This Sunday evening, we get to enjoy a Fall Feast / Turkey Supper together, thanks to "The Turkey Team" - a group in the church who hosts many of our hospitality events. You can still come even if you haven't bought a ticket. See details in the announcements below. It's delicious food and fantastic fellowship.

See you Sunday,

Valerie
