Message from Riverbend United Church

November 21, 2025

Dear friends:

This is the last Sunday of the Christian liturgical year. It means everything begins once more next week on the first Sunday of Advent. As we complete the Autumn season this week, we are gifted by the Ensemble leading us in a unique service. Here's what the Ensemble leader Marv has to say about it:

The Ensemble will explore the theme of "Spirituality in Popular Music." Through a series of reflections and musical examples we will explore various aspects of spirituality - perhaps you'll find yourself searching for new meaning in your favourite songs! We will hear from Marv Severson, Doug Spaner, and Ayanna Locke offering reflections. And of course, there will be wonderful musical pieces to go along with the theme.

I look forward to this enlivening service of worship, and I look forward to seeing you Sunday.

Warmly,

Valerie

Reminder: Please be extra diligent about scams this holiday season, including the possibility of someone impersonating Rev. Valerie or Riverbend United in an email or in a text. No one on the church staff or from the church email address will ask you for money. Be extra careful about all email attachments, double checking the sender return address, and be diligent about phone calls that come to you asking for something. Always hang up and initiate the call yourself. Scammers are extremely sophisticated in their impersonations. Please be careful.
